

You should be reading this on the bus

You'd save money and the air, plus have time to read more than the Sports page.

More and more people are finding out why taking the bus makes more sense than driving. Instead of fighting traffic, you can sit back, relax and read the paper or a good book. You could save money, too.

All told, the average driver spends about 44 cents per mile including ownership and maintenance. Plus, you'll help to reduce traffic congestion and air pollution, which actually makes bus fare a contribution towards a better environment. So keep it up because—

It all adds up to cleaner air
